The building has great value as a site of Korean modern history and as a place that holds the stories of Busan.
Gukje Market was once filled with novel, amazing goods imported from overseas. UN Memorial Cemetery

This is where the remains of fallen UN soldiers who lost their lives during the Korean War are buried. Divided into the cemetery and green areas, it feels sacred and solemn but, at the same time, peaceful and heartwarming.
Known as the “La La Land” of Busan, it boasts an excellent view.
